BIR/IEL make it better service award

Have you made a change in your radiology or radiotherapy department which has improved your service delivery or enhanced patient experience?

We know it is the small improvements which can make a huge difference to the quality of your service delivery. Your innovation might improve the comfort of the service user, or have a massive impact on the budget of your department. So, tell us about what you have done, whether it's a tiny tweak or a huge change – and share your success...

Enter the BIR/IEL Make it Better Service Awards to showcase the best practice in your department.

Applicants must demonstrate that the delivery of a service or patient experience has improved. Enter as an individual or as a team.

Examples could include: reducing cost, increasing throughput, improving diagnostic quality leading to better outcomes, better infection control, reduced motion of the patient, improving accessibility, improved patient comfort, higher staff or patient satisfaction.

The award is open to an individual or groups of people from either an imaging department, radiotherapy, medical physics or from a multi-disciplinary team who may be either BIR members or non-members.

The winner will receive a display trophy and funding of up to £1,000 to attend UKRCO 2018.

The funding and sponsorship for this award is provided by iel.
