

Lauren Matthews is a lecturer at the University of Leeds in Diagnostic Radiography and a practicing radiographer in CT, plain film and forensic imaging. She recently joined YPAT due to her enthusiasm to promote education within radiography, and endeavours to provide innovative and resourceful teaching. Lauren has experience in both CT Colonography and Post Mortem CT and is passionate about creating and providing accessible, relevant and person-centred learning opportunities within the field of radiology